A HUGE WELCOME TO CENTRAL TAG 2011 IN BIRMINGHAM!!!

You join us as the city of Birmingham moves full-swing into Christmas with its famous Frankfurt Christmas market (replete with beer, glüwein and sausages) and as the University of Birmingham enters its second century.

Hosted by the University's Institute of Archaeology and Antiquity, this 33rd Theoretical Archaeology Group conference will take place at the University of Birmingham's Edgbaston campus from Wednesday 14th to Friday 16th December 2011.

The Theoretical Archaeology Group (TAG) was founded in 1979 with the aim of promoting debate and discussion of issues in the theory of archaeology. Its annual conference traditionally takes place in December, marking the culmination of the archaeological calendar year and attracting participants from all sectors of the archaeological community – students, professionals and academics. It success cover the years has spawned sibling conferences in northern Europe and the USA, and other conference series have adopted very similar formats.

TAG is managed and steered by a National Committee that meets annually and comprises a representative from each of the university departments that have hosted a TAG Conference. Convening and organizing National Committee meetings, and administering TAG finances, is the duty of the TAG Trustees who are:

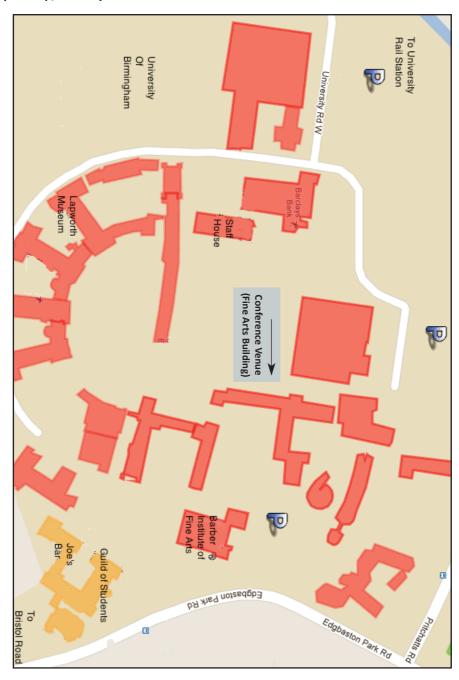

- Colin Renfrew
- Timothy Darvill
- Andrew Fleming (1979 2001)

We hope you will take full advantage at the conference to meet and make new colleagues and friends, and to renew contact with old ones. Birmingham, as the country's second city, offers a great deal to visitors and we hope you will take the chance while with us to enjoy them. We also hope you will enjoy visiting the country's first civic 'redbrick' University (indeed, the institution that gave those that followed the name) and the facilities we offer.

We of the Organising Committee welcome you to our institution.

Essential Information

Birmingham and Surrounds

City Centre

Food and Drink – Whether you are on New Street, at the Bullring, or on one on the canals opposite Symphony Hall; there are restaurants to suit every taste in Birmingham. There are a variety of pubs and restaurants along Broad Street, and many of the best can be found at Brindley Place, which features tree-lined squares alongside a welcoming canal-side ambiance that draw all ages to the stylish bars and eateries. Brindley Place is located next to Birmingham's Broad Street and the ICC Centre and Symphony Hall. Restaurants such as Piccolino, Mashouse, All Bar One, and bars such as the Pitcher and Piano:

http://www.brindleyplace.com/category/restaurants/

The Bullring (and the infamous Selfridges building – love it or hate it) has become emblematic of Birmingham itself, and this November it has unveiled its new Spiceal Street)http://www.spicealstreet.co.uk/) which brings to the heart of Birmingham a new Handmade Burger Co, Browns Bar and Brasserie, and ChoaBaby. These new additions add to Jamie's Italian, Café Rouge, Urban Pie, Pizza Express, Del Villaggio, Nando's, Wagamama to list just a few places to eat in the Bullring itself.

Adjacent to the Bullring, you will find the Frankfurt Christmas Market & Craft Fair is running from 17 November - 23 December, (at Victoria Square & New Street - Daily 10 am to 9 pm), and well worth stopping. It is the largest authentic German market outside Germany and Austria featuring over 180 stalls selling gifts, jewellery, decorations, handmade toys, delicious German fare with live musical performances throughout.

For those staying near the Jewellery Quarter, you may find St. Paul's square worth a visit. St Paul's Square is home to hidden gems, such as Jools Holland's Jam House and the delicious Pasta di Piazza http://pastadipiazza.com/, and at the centre of this Georgian Square is the beautiful 1779 Church to St Paul. More info on Jewellery Quarter see:

For a more detailed listing of the option, with interactive maps for directions, please see the Birmingham Tourism web site at http://www.visitbirmingham.com/.

Harborne

Food - Harborne High Street (20 minutes' walk from campus) boasts a Café Rouge (French-style café and restaurant), a Zizzi and a Buonissimo (both Italian) plus other Italian and Asian restaurants. It also hosts Turner's, one of Birmingham's Michelin-starred eating places (booking recommended). Among our favourites are an Italian restaurant called Valentino's, which is excellent and not too expensive and a Thai place called Mai Thai, which is also very good. The best curry is probably at the Cardamom (just past the Junction as you head away from town).

Drinks - Three of the best (and most expensive) places to drink in Harbourne are the Junction, at the western end of the High Street (i.e. away from the city centre), the Arco Lounge (a little further down in the direction of town) and the Plough which is near the eastern end. All three also do good food (particularly the Arco Lounge), and the Junction has a set menu every week night which is good value. The White Horse, on York Street just off the High Street is another good pub with a very wide range of ales, but no food. The Sportsman (behind Marks & Spencer's) tends to be quieter but is very friendly - also no food.

Selly Oak

Food/Drink – There are a range of curry houses and student friendly pubs and eateries along the Bristol Road just south of the Main Campus.

Staff House is located in the centre of campus (a 5-minute walk from the University train station), and across the quad from the Arts Building. Here you will find a lively pub, the Bratby Bar, on the ground floor open Monday – Thursday, 12 noon - 14:00 and 17:15 -22:30, and Friday 12 noon - 22:30. On the second is Cafe Aroma, a large cafe style venue open Monday to Friday: 9:00 - 16:00, perfect for hot coffees and tea, tray baked cakes and Danishes, sandwiches and hot paninis.

Joe's Bar, a bar/restaurant offering high-quality food and evening entertainment, is located in the Guild of Students and open from 10 am – 11 pm.

Campus Attractions

The Barber Institute of Fine Arts - http://www.barber.org.uk/. The Barber is home to excellent exhibitions, exciting collections and evening concerts open Monday to Friday: 10am - 5pm, and Saturday & Sunday: 11am - 5pm, all absolutely free of charge, a very reasonable price indeed.

Winterbourne House & Garden - http://www.winterbourne.org.uk/ Set within seven acres of beautiful botanic gardens, this is a unique heritage attraction, home to beautiful antiques and featuring a beautiful woodland walk. Located at the University of Birmingham, 58 Edgbaston Park Road, Edgbaston, Birmingham, B15 2RT, the hours are from 10am-4pm weekdays 11am-4pm weekends. While Entry to the house and tea room is free of charge, there is a small fee for entry into the gardens.

The Lapworth Museum of Geology, open Monday to Friday 9.00am - 5.00pm, with free admission. It is located is located within the Aston Webb building on the main Edgbaston campus (see Campus Map).
